

June 24, 2009

Product Availability

With the increasing concerns on product availability or product life cycle due to the economic downturn, we would like to ensure our customers that we have and will continue to monitor our supply chains. As long as there is demand on a standard product, PUI Audio will not discontinue or obsolete that product for a minimum of 5 years. If for whatever reason we do have to discontinue a part, we will have an alternative available and provide our customers with a minimum of a 30-day notice along with a last time purchase option.

Sincerely,

Barry Ricks
Operations Manager